- 1 Which tasks does this Collective Soul have for us human beings? How does it serve us? Please let us have a short answer fit to be used as Mantra.

We serve by loving and blessing, by strengthening the core of peace and the ability to give and receive love. At need, we can close the door to past events so we can heal it in peace and calm for you. Sometimes there are things in a human being's life that he resp. she cannot solve alone. Reach out to us in such cases; we may be just the help you need.

- 2 Which effects does this plant, essential oil, Collective Soul have on the different levels of human beings?

2.1 Conscious level (wake consciousness, mind)

Your wake consciousness and mind tend to keep taking past things out of their box so you may solve them. This is a valuable and important mechanism on your way towards the creativity within you, so you may grow and develop. Contrary to common knowledge, your personal growth and development do not depend on your problems, on their number or intensity but on the number of conflicts you solve by means of your free will, your intention and willingness to restore them to Divine Order. The more such tests you pass, the closer you get to creativity which is a powerful tool in a human being's hands. All human beings living out their creativity ought to have gone through and passed certain trainings and tests. Some human beings obtain this kind of access from pre-incarnations of their souls, by e.g. resuming old names of their pre-incarnations or names of power resulting from it. This does not correspond with Divine Order as that is a form of cheating. Most of these human beings (not all, but unfortunately very, very many) cannot cope with the related responsibility, as they have not passed those tests themselves in the present life time. As this is common practice in certain secret societies and groups in order to strengthen their members and to artificially help them rise to a level they are not worthy of, your world is in its present state. For these human beings will meddle in the name of "god" or whoever and do not handle the stolen creativity with the respect and responsibility it requires. The root of many problems you are facing in the world is that power and creativity are being wielded wrongly by human beings who are not sufficiently worthy of them. They might become worthy of them one day, but in most cases their egos get so bloated by those games of power within a very short period of time that they do not even aspire to becoming worthy of them anymore. They cannot deal with the negative polarity that comes with power; they will fall prey to it and eventually destroy themselves, so they cannot cause too much damage. Unfortunately, these human beings are often supported and encouraged in their actions, as they are frank enough to admit to their problems especially within their groups. And then an entire group will fight symptoms in order to enable these human beings to keep their artificially acquired and unjustified status and can go on playing their mean game. They will do ever more badly, increasing the need for external energy required to keep up the system itself. For this reason, these societies, sects and religiously/spiritually or economically entwined groups will use energy that should be available to all. This is an outrage that needs to be put paid to and this can be achieved in several ways. We are a very powerful collective and act so gently and lovingly that human beings in such systems would not be able to keep their soul from opening to us or to keep their souls and many of their other levels from working with us, as they have a natural disposition to cooperate with us. So, we are the ultimate positive virus that can act wonderfully here.

As you may have noticed by now, all of the Plant Collectives' Communications are training for your minds to a large extent; and the received information will act within you and change you for your benefit. The Rose Collective's Communication is one of the most powerful and should be made available to every human being for the highest good of all, so all of you may benefit from it and defend yourselves from theft of energy – not by fighting, but by presenting the incident to the Rose collective and asking for help. However, all we will do will be subject to Divine Order and the highest good of all; and as all collectives we are absolutely incorruptible. If someone addresses us without just reason, nothing whatsoever will happen from our side.

We can close the door to past events if you cannot solve them alone and if there is no one or nothing at your service, so it may be solved and done with in due time and for the highest good of all. However, we only offer our assistance, and whoever wants our help and assistance will need to refer to us. If there is other assistance in your life, we prefer to help you go your way on your own resources, for though our assistance will help you, it will not bring you any closer to being creator, for the credit and merit are not yours if we settle something for you. This means: we will always refer you to actions you can take or human beings you should or could contact in order to be able to personally grow and develop in a challenging situation.

After all, the time you live in is about growing and developing into being creator. Therefore, we will only interfere when it is absolutely necessary and when there is no way around it. We do not do so out of elitism but out of our love for you and your development and your potentials often not yet fully tapped. We want you to grow into the abundance and joy of your being in all your splendor and power - for that is the reason you have been born on earth at this time. And this is what will make you happy, healthy and fulfilled in all kinds of ways. We are looking forward with you to the time – coming soon – when many human beings will have grown into being creator, for that will be a blessing for each and every one of you and for you as a collective!

2.2 Unconscious level

The unconscious areas are not our main aim; primarily we work with the levels that your mind keeps on producing: when old feelings of e.g. guilt keep on being reloaded and reactivated and when this does not improve and does not stop whatever you do. That is one of our main services.

However, we will close the door to your past and work within your unconscious level if necessary, for there your mind would only do harm, working as it is right now. Then we will act by strengthening the core of peace and the core of blessing and the core of love that exist in every human being – without them a developed soul would have a very hard time incarnating on a planet with as low a vibration as yours. Nowadays, less highly developed souls no longer incarnate on this planet, for the vibration is globally and universally increasing and they would be absolutely out of place there. Gradually there will be fewer and fewer fields of resonance with a low vibration, so they can no longer live on a planet with a higher vibration.

By letting the three essential cores of life grow, intensify and spread, everything will gradually align accordingly and thus be restored to peace on all levels behind the door. When the work is done, the door – now superfluous – can be dissolved and you will hardly notice that at all. When you think back to a painful or unpleasant situation in your past, the bad feeling that used to creep up your spine will be gone and you will no longer be able to recall it, because it is not tolerated to stir anew old states of resentment, jealousy, grudge, pain, sorrow, guilt and accusation etc. that have already been set back to Divine Order. Any attempt to turn appeased aspects back into sorrow constitutes a grave breach of Divine Order and will be avenged and punished by the healed level of negative polarity, so these human beings and systems will notice that this is not allowed and may not be done. It is a pity that so many human beings wish to learn by means of unpleasant “sanctions”. But the further you develop, the less this will apply to you. So, there are many good reasons to develop and grow into true creativity.

We wish to stress that nothing and no one is destroyed and no life is taken – but a change will be set into motion. The more often a human being or group violates Divine Order, the more they will be under crossfire from Divine Order and some systems do so on purpose, for being confronted with Divine Order is their only possibility to prevail. The more mess they have made the more they are confronted with Divine Order and finally the entire system will submit to it and can thus continue to exist. The other possibility would be to break up, but there is little hope that the same human beings would get back together on a different level and work together again, because they would definitely learn from it. So, the systems will try to preserve themselves. We share these insights with you so you may think of and create alternative actions, for human beings capable and in positions to make a change have not yet become aware of this. This is quite a problem and needs to be counteracted, for otherwise a lot of „mess“ and injustice would be provoked to the harm of all – and merely for systems to be able to prevail.

2.3 Physical Level (Body, Cell Memory, Chakras)

Rose will soothe, calm and harmonize with a tendency to lift the mood. Therefore, the Rose collective will introduce ease, love and joy into your system which are beneficial to all levels of human beings – even to cell memory that receives an alternative vibration to align with, adapt information from and increase its vibration – and the chakras will follow.

Every body offered a higher vibration will seize upon it and use this possibility to its advantage, unless there are specific spells at work. Then, human beings may feel disgusted by a higher vibration that would speed up their personal development and growth as well as strengthen their health on many or at least some levels. It is time to undo and dispose of spells working against Divine Order. Once you read this, this will already have been done.

When chakras are being treated with essential Rose oil they will cleanse automatically of all lower vibrations and once they are clean, they will introduce the higher vibration directly into the human being's system. So, you may really call it a "positive virus", because this vibration will truly spread as every cell wants to get some of that vibration and information. And as your body's cells – unlike your minds – comprehend and understand that they can only do well as a collective if they share the good they receive, they will share the information of the Rose collective's vibration with all their adjacent cells which will share in their turn and so on, until the entire human being will systemically radiate on all levels. At the same time and due to the high division rate, the vibration and information will become more and more subtle and can act in areas that are hardly accessible otherwise. The effect will reach parallel time tracks and the past, present and future of the soul's history and as mentioned above, it exclusively serves Divine Order.

This means: essential Rose oil is a very good thing if you just want to say "thank you" to your soul and do it a service.

The bottom line is: apply essential Rose oil regularly on the chakras as an aura spray, a specially programmed crystal or simply by inhaling it (The nose has chakras, too, that have been completely underestimated. Let us say just this: stop confronting those chakras and your systems with synthetic scents – any excrement will yield better effects than a synthetic scent!). You may also apply essential Rose oil directly or bathe in it (one drop of already diluted pure essential Rose oil in Young Living's quality will suffice for a bath tub filling!) and doing so, you will keep on reaching new higher levels, by re-programming your cells and increasing their vibration.

This does not contradict what was said before, but is meant to give hint for using Rose to those who need the Rose collective's help. However, if you use essential Rose oil and there is other help waiting for you that would assist you in your autonomy, then essential Rose oil will only work for you as far as it will be of service to you, but will not do any work for you, if you can do it on your own albeit with outside help, for then you need to advance on your own. So, once the vibration of your cells and your chakras will surpass your ego's, this work cannot and must not be done by others, but you need to deal with it yourself, so your ego and its programs may catch up with your system's higher vibration. If you fail to do the work yourself, you will simply grow slower than you could if you were seriously striving for your development and growth. Often the intention and commitment outweigh actual results: it is possible that you do get outside help. For if you entertain programs that are to keep you from growing even though you honestly try and strive for it, sometimes the collective level may restore balance for your efforts. Sometimes, the Rose collective will be part of this kind of help and offer its service on the soul level. This is particularly true for human beings who do not yet know very much of the correlations and this human being's soul will decide on an individual basis and depending on the situation and need, what may be done, so the human being can and may still grow and develop on his resp. her own resources.

2.4 Soul Level

Your soul has an essential role in your life, whether you know it or not. If you listen to your inner voice or act in accordance with your gut instinct, you will act in accordance with what your souls wants for you to 80 – 90 %. Most often, this is the right thing. Most often, because it is only 80 – 90 % and the remaining 20 – 10 % share in on other parts of yourself that have somehow managed to pass as your soul and have gained control of certain areas of your being. Most often, such parts are controlled by systems and levels that do not have anything or much to do with your soul in the everyday and obvious world, but influence you unconsciously all the time and partly actually guide you. But this will soon be over and you ought to trust your inner voice, for it will lead you to freedom, joy and blessing of your being – as soon as possible.

We will indirectly strengthen your soul by increasing the vibration of your body, chakras and many other parts of your being, thereby making them more compatible with the already high vibration of your soul. The soul's vibration is always higher than the human being's, so the human being may always align with the soul level because the vibration of any development and growth in this universe always reaches up...

2.5 Emotions And Pain

We strengthen the emotional body in its positive focus on Divine Order, peace and joy and blessing and render it more compatible with your souls' vibrations. Your emotional body will learn not to react primarily to your ego and other energies with a low vibration, but more and more to your soul level. This will be directly beneficial to you for it means that the emotional body will no longer take part or assist in creating unnecessary drama.

In order to achieve this, the pain body must be treated directly and intensively. It will be put to a test that will highlight all weak points in order to be able to consequently heal them. This is for your higher good and happens mostly on your unconscious level, preferably while you are sleeping; this is not possible while you are reading or watching TV or thinking or creating. It would be possible while you are meditating or trying to contact the Rose collective with your mind and soul and all your other parts and inviting this collective in and allowing it to act within you for your higher good. But even so, we would not be able to work on your most painful pain points as easily with you and your consciousness present, for it would limit your ability to meditate. Therefore, we prefer to do our necessary and often very important work on your pain-body while you are sleeping.

In any case, there is a parallel program in which we work with humanity's collective and there the pain-body and its healing on all levels is a very important field of action, too.

Once your pain-body is healed, no old pain can be re-activated, so this is one of the keys of our work and our actions. Your pain-body is healed by blocking, isolating and eventually healing old pain with love and joy and blessing and peace. We have an especially direct connection and "permit" to use these energies - and we use them whenever it is necessary for the highest good of someone or all in line with Divine Order, the Divine plan and the soul plans of all concerned and involved.

So, once old pain has melted and flown off and has been transformed into strength (we do this only in very rare cases and only if it is necessary for the highest good of all and when many depend on this particular human being and his resp. her potentials and development), then all there remains to be done is to re-establish the connection, for you need an emotional pain-body in order to continue to grow and develop, learn and realize and change and act.

From our present contemplation of your universe, we can tell you that human beings will not always need a pain-body; at some point in evolution it will no longer be necessary and vanish. The human beings of that future will not be able to understand at all why you have acted in the way you have. But they will not judge you but honor you for the things you will have done well. It is fine and it will be fine.

2.6 Inner Child And Ego

The ego is appeased and given what it requires and wants most urgently (though it does not necessarily like to admit to it): love and peace. The same applies to the inner child and so both are content and in harmony. Hardly anything better can happen to you, looking at what is going on in the world. For often, human beings let their egos and egoistical convictions guide them or let their inner child seduce them to act irresponsibly and automatically. This would not be a problem if they bore the corresponding consequences, but often enough entire peoples are dragged into conflicts that are all about pure egoism, apparent or real games of power and the likes of them. Often, the basic rights of every human being and every existence are not heeded. That is a real pity, and sadly this will not be gone overnight. But every step in the right direction, i.e. towards respect and care for life, helps to make the mills of this world grind in the right direction. This is where you want to go and what you will reach – whether that will be sooner or later is up to you. Each and every one of you can contribute to making this world a better and more beautiful place to live in by doing what you have come to do, by going about your life's task(s). And wherever we may, wherever it is necessary and desired, we, the Rose collective, will contribute our part.

2.7 Shadow

The shadow corresponds to our thorns. In some (not all, but many) of you, your thorns are floating around your stipes uncontrolled and sting this way or that instead of protecting you when you need it, because you do not control them. If you are lucky there is a thorn floating exactly where someone is trying to attack you - but with a little skill a thorn that really belongs to you can be turned around and pushed into you, so it will hurt and damage you. And some human beings and organisations have mastered this craft and use diverse methods in order to use the unintegrated shadow against you. Sometimes this works, sometimes it does not – it is up to you and whether you want to see what is really going on. For only those who know the truth can defend and protect themselves and find ways to escape such traps. It is possible, but it does not come free of all cost. You will need to do your bit.

Sadly, a lot of human beings do not give any thought on values and priorities that truly endure in life. If you do not think beyond the new car or the stylish house, you will hardly be able to realize the truth of your life, for what truly endures in life is how you feel inside, what you have done to turn this world into a better and more beautiful place for many, how considerate and respectful you have treated life in general and your own in particular and whether you have fulfilled the tasks that your soul set for you. That is the sense of life, put very simply and plainly. Although in detail, this will be different for every human being, the basics are more or less the same for all of you as described above. We do hope that you will give this some thought and start or continue with the necessary changes, so your life is filled with the sense and reward that will let you close your eyes happily and content once your time will come to leave for good. For nothing else matters to your soul, nothing else endures forever. In a way, that can turn you immortal in your soul's chronicle - or not if you failed to achieve your goal. And that decision is yours – every single day and every split second. That is your power and no one may take it from you. Should this have happened nonetheless, take it back! Use it for your highest good and the highest good of all, for you owe it to your soul. And it truly is as simple as that.

Of course, we know that it is quite possible to make everything much more complicated and because everything is so much more complicated than seems to be manageable, many remain stuck in old patterns and programs – because they are afraid to be themselves, to realize and fulfil their sense and purpose in life. Yet, this is the only true fulfilment in life, the only thing that is good for every human being, every creature and all existence on this planet and beyond: if you are who you are and do what you should do according to your soul's mission. If you dare go the first step, you will receive help. If you refuse the first step, you cannot be supported by positive powers for you have decided against your sense in life – then, negative powers will need to help you see that you are off track.

And one area in which many are off track is their shadow. They lock it out and say: "Oh, I want to always be very good." No creator would do that, for that splits your very being and limits your power and strength. It is like cutting off an arm or leg and saying: "That does not belong to me; I do not want to have it."

If the plan were for you human beings to only work with one arm and one leg (figuratively speaking), you would be created that way. But you are created with two arms and two legs, so it seems quite safe to assume that each and everything bestowed upon you will be necessary and helpful to you in fulfilling your tasks. Getting back to the point: Accept your negative power – to many of you that is the key to activating your creativity and also to gaining a conscious and controlled use of your positive as well as negative powers.

Imagine there were only growth and expansion: your planet would have died ages ago, for too much life would want to feed from it. In nature, there need to be destructive and taking powers, too, and you are absolutely equal to nature as you are part of it - even though most seem to have forgotten that. If you only use the positive powers in your life, you will limit and confine your range of action and efficiency. Some human beings lament exactly that and ask why that is so – especially given that they mean and do everything they do as well as possible. And, really, they answer their own question: they only live the positive aspect and without separating the nonviable ideas out, many lose themselves. Without reduction and focus on the essential that comes with it, human beings regularly get bogged down and either do not get anything done or achieve little while taking great pains – and those achievements are not particularly viable. Indeed, you need negative polarity's power quite badly in your life – and that is your shadow. You may say it is a destructive power, you may say it is the power to take. And you take life itself - that is the negative polarity's first act and it is necessary for your very life. All your potential brothers and sisters die when the sperm cell from which you are going to grow enters your mother's egg cell and unites with the cell nucleus. So, you take away the chance at life from all the other sperm cells and that is in line with Divine Order. Or would you like to feel guilty for being alive?

So, at the very moment something positive is created – the union of egg and sperm - something else happens as well: reduction of life to this fertilized egg cell. You are free to turn that into a drama – for in that you are true masters – but it is the ultimate basis for your life and the life of many other creatures. So, you really ought to start accepting and integrating your shadow parts consciously and, when necessary put them to use in line with Divine Order and in respect of the highest good of all.

There is no way around it – so why wait and what for?

The Rose collective can establish the connection between Roses and thorns, i.e. between all your other parts and your shadow. We can make it easier for you to accept your shadow and to learn to deal with it in as pleasant a way as possible. However, the more you resist it, the harder it will be for you and the more unpleasant the necessary lessons will be. Sometimes and out of their refusal to accept their shadow, human beings create extreme situations that endanger their very life unless they finally begin to live their shadow. Now, do not get us wrong: this does not mean that you will or should resort to violence against yourselves or others, but it means to separate what needs to be separated and to realize the truth as much as possible and to make a decision and stand by it with all its consequences. Just think of Mahatma Gandhi, he did not use any violence but consequently stood by his decision whatever came his way and he used the negative polarity's power to distance himself of things that were against Divine Order. He used the power to take in order to take the right to be free. And we know him, we assisted him and we can tell you that it really was not always easy for him, just as for many others whose names the world does not know, but who master their everyday lives and consequently stand by their decisions, even though those may not always be the right ones. Just try to think on what would serve all lives – your own life as well as the life of all existence – then you have a good guideline.

We trust to have built a bridge for many of your levels to your shadow, so it may be easier for you to accept it and to send it to its place within your system where it may serve you at need – for your own good and for the highest good of all. You are free to do with the information as you see fit. Will you use the power you are entitled to or not? And if you do: to what ends? And if you do not: who will use it in your stead and to what ends?

Power already born cannot disappear just like that. So if you do not use your power, let's call it negative power – what do you think will happen with it? Do you think it will be allowed to remain unused and wait until you care to remember it? It will not. This power will be used by those who do not have any scruples to destroy and take. So, instead of yielding your power to someone who will use it against you and other human beings and creatures and sometimes even against life itself, it would seem quite clever to use that power yourself. Even if your sole motivation is to prevent it from being abused, for all cant and blustering – be it at companies or politics – is out of place here. It is up to you whether or not to yield your power to them. And if you do, you need not complain – for you could have made a different choice.

We know there is no school that teaches these things (at least not yet), but it will not be too long now until there will be sufficient possibilities to learn how to deal with your shadow for the highest good of all. And we shall be a part of that, because it is simply necessary.

2.8 Ancestors – Topics, Programs, Information And Patterns

We have harmonizing effects on these areas as well, but they are not primary to us. We do not differentiate between your own topics and those brought along or passed on, we simply act where it is necessary and needed. With our basic tendency to harmonize and calm as well as towards gentleness and love, many things can be set back into balance, because there is no condemnation for a couple of moments. And we do not need much time, in which you do not stand in your own way and in healing's way, a window every now and again is sufficient for us to perform our service. If you want to help yourself, you can try to avoid condemnation, for that truly is the root of many evils. In this way, whatever requires peace for your highest good, will be appeased.

Do you think that this contradicts the integration of the shadow parts? That is wrong, for there is a time and a reason for everything, and that is true for peace as well as for separating things and situations that no longer fit and are no longer necessary. Instead of condemning you can try to realize what is there, maybe look at something from several levels and different perspectives if needed and to then make your decision. Like, e.g. the decision that you want to be free of your ancestors' programs and doctrines that are harmful to you and your descendants.

2.9 Aura (spiritual level, energy body)

The Rose collective will energize your aura, as it ignites a lot of action for your highest good. Your energy body will be very busy once in contact with a higher vibration, and Rose has a very high vibration. For there is much to do and to achieve with it and your energy body uses this as effectively as possible – and that is right and appropriate. Of course, this does not apply to infants, small babies or children who have remained “pure”, for these beings have a high vibration. For them, Rose will merely create a positive field or resonance, a field of peace, of blessing and of joy and it does indeed help quite a number of babies and toddlers not to despair, because they realize that high vibrations do exist in this material, incarnated world and that they are at home here as well. That is a good feeling indeed. So, Rose and essential Rose oil strengthen self-confidence and will help children to defend themselves against the “temptations of evil” and remain true to themselves, when e.g. in kindergarten everything seems to have to be as cool, nasty, strong and mean as possible, in order for the children to be part of the “gang”. And while it is simply not interesting to quarrel with such children, they are still attractive because they have preserved their power and pureness and integrity. And what applies to children applies ever more to grown-ups. That within you which has remained clear and pure will be strengthened and preserved as much as possible. Mahatma Ghandi needed this, too, by the way. And so, your aura, your chakras, your fields will work with much verve and energy, in order to support you as much as possible to be yourself.

3 Where, how and how often should this plant, this essential oil, and this collective be applied for the higher good of all?

Essential Rose oil nourishes the skin and is very mild on it, so you cannot make any mistake in its application. However, as it is not easy to distil, many human beings will dilute it before use. We recommend you to do that yourself and to make sure you only dilute with it with a high-quality vegetable oil complex, so you do not lose any of the effect. In order to valorise the vegetable oil complex, connect with the Rose collective via your heart, soul and mind; ask for the vegetable oil complex to be enhanced and ideally aligned to your needs for your highest good. This will provide enormous advantages in comparison to a simple blend.

You can always apply essential Rose oil, there are no contra-indications unless for necessary warriors. However, those are extremely few, in all not even 60 people on the planet and they are getting fewer. At certain times, Rose would not be useful for this particular group of human beings as upon application essential Rose oil they may not contact the lower vibrations they are to work with for the highest good of all. Apart from this case, you are free to use our power as you need and desire.

All application methods are possible; however, essential Rose oil need not be blended at all and should not be blended randomly. It will act very pleasantly and strong on its own, so you could just as well apply it, wait and see what will happen. 😊

4 Are there any as yet unknown application methods which we human beings may now learn of for the higher good of all? If so, please let us have all relevant information.

Yes, there are. And now is the time for quite a different transformation process. For, from now on, things may be easier and more pleasant for many of you, which is why we recommend you to have a roll-on or your personal essential Rose oil or personal blend with you at all times, as every day you will experience situations where our power could be useful. The development processes are advancing at a rather fast pace, so you are confronted with things you could work on and in which you can grow and develop. Essential Rose oil is a good assistance. If it is too expensive for you, try to contact us via meditation and mental exercise and imagine being safe and secure within a huge Rose colored Rose bud (the bud may be of a different color if you prefer, but please remain within the natural color scale). That alone can be great before going to sleep. We are looking forward to welcoming you.

Above all of this, further new techniques will be transmitted at the right time. Today, we would like to share with you the Power of Three, for which you need

- * a rose quartz to program with the Rose collective,
- * an amethyst to program with Frankincense or Sage collective
- * and a serpentine to program with the collective of your choice (Rosemary, Dill, Thyme, Oregano etc. even wild meadow herbs).

Those three gems and collectives may accompany you for one year, after which time you need to thank them, let them go and pass them on as gifts. By then, they will have absorbed the memory of your healing processes and can serve the next human being who is free to decide whether he resp. she wants and needs Sage or Frankincense. Once made, this decision is irreversible until one year is gone (you do not need to start on a January 1st, though!). The gems are used at need: for putting them on, energizing water or places (e.g. put them underneath your bed or similar), be creative when it comes to using them. And when a year is gone, pass the gems on and tell the human beings you give them to how they are to be used. You need not clean the gems (except before the very first programming) as they are connected to the collectives and the collectives keep them “pure”. You need not use all three every day and there may be days when you will not touch one of them, but they will be in your apartment or house and will act upon you without fail.

How to program the gems: rinse them after purchase, let them bathe in direct sunlight (no window in between) or onto mother earth, so they can get back in contact with nature. And once you have made your choice of collectives to support you for one year, put them to your heart and contact the chosen collectives via your mind. Ask for the gem to be programmed with the collective's vibration for one year and also ask the gem's collective for its permit and assistance. Now, download the collective's information via your system and let it flow into the gem through your heart chakra. Once the energy stops to flow, the programming is done. For those of you who do not feel it clearly: it takes 15 minutes for one gem at most, but it can be much faster than that, often a few minutes will be sufficient. Thank the collectives for their service and use the gems. Treat them respectfully, so they will remain with you and may be passed on.

After the one year you may decide whether to pass on all three gems to one person (which is our recommendation) or whether to spread the gems and tell the human beings you pass them on to, to buy the other two, clean those and program them. Both possibilities are OK, but the three gems are needed for best effects.

5 What does it mean if a human being cannot stand or craves this essential oil (when smelling it)?

Few people truly dislike essential Rose oil, but many like it only diluted as it is very intense. There is nothing wrong with that. If someone really cannot stand it at all, this may mean that he resp. she really wants to hold on to his resp. her pain, rigidity and problems and refuses any kind of assistance. There are cases when that may be appropriate because those human beings need to find and go their way alone according to their souls' plan, but very often they are influenced in negative ways from so many levels that they cannot open up at all. Our counsel is that every human being should open consciously for this collective. So, only fan the scent lightly towards such human beings (do not let them inhale the entire dose) and give them a little time to notice effects. Only then let them make their final choice or, better still, have them smell again on the next day and then decide – for then the essential oil may act during the night and a single smelling may have so great an effect (for the aura and energy body are very “busy” afterwards) that the human beings can stand or actually like the smell on the next day.

If someone especially likes essential Rose oil that may mean that she resp. he can open very well to this collective's power and presumably needs it for a certain area. Of course, some human beings simply like the oil's scent because it is nice. That is quite possible as well.

- 6 Are there any essential oils or collectives which supplement or intensify this essential oil particularly well? Please let us have all relevant information for the higher good of all.

Yes, Rose harmonizes well with quite a number of them, but in general it is hardly ever necessary to combine it with other essential oils, plants or collectives. Please do not just go ahead and mix essential Rose oil wildly, but combine it with few specially and topically selected essential oils or collectives. Follow your instinct as to whether the blend or essential oil resp. object or collective that you have chosen needs essential Rose oil and whether it will go together well. You will feel it and often put away the essential Rose oil – even with regret. Please trust your instinct and your inner voice here. Essential Rose oil blends particularly well with some collectives and these collectives will actually assist it: Frankincense, Sage, Sandalwood, Myrrh, Myrtle, Cassia, Melissa and Clove. However, a blend of all of those would be quite bombastic and is not recommendable for all of you. Rose will assist, intensify or complement many other collectives and it will benefit from the ones mentioned above.

- 7 Does this Collective Soul have any more messages or can we human beings do something for this Collective Soul? Please let us have all relevant information.

Everything is fine. There is nothing left to mention. Blessed be!

I would like to thank the Rose collective for the information and for being allowed to pass it on for free to any human being who wants or needs it.

Blessed be for your service, too.

I thank you and bless the Rose collective in return. Thank you.

Our pleasure.
